

Trace, draw and color.

Students identify the parts of the body. Then they trace the dotted lines. Next, they draw their own facial features and hair on the blank face. Finally, they color the picture.

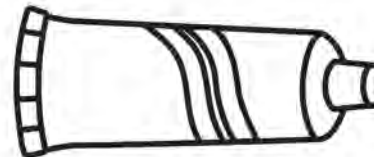

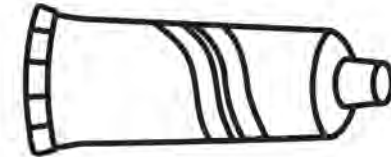

Match and color.

Students identify the silhouettes. Then they draw lines from the silhouettes to the matching objects. Finally, they color the pictures.

Look and color.

Students identify and color the action at the beginning of each row. Then they color the object or objects in the row that are needed to perform the action.

Draw your favorite part.

Students draw a picture of their favorite part of the story. Next, they color and share it with the class.
