1 Household chores

Stick the pictures and read.

Listen and repeat.

Hurry up!

‘Take your time!

Don’t forget the bucket.

Remember the leash.
Follow and read.

Listen and repeat.

Unscramble the expressions.

- up · floor · Hurry · and · sweep · the
  ________________________________
- time · table · Take · the · setting · your
  ________________________________
- Don’t · the · to · mop · floor · forget
  ________________________________

Listen and number the pictures.
Listen and mark (√).

Now ask a friend and mark (√).

Listen and chant.

It's getting late
It's getting late!
We have to be at school by eight.
Mother said, mother said,
First you have to make your bed
Have some fun, have some fun,
We don't have to run, run, run
Not today, not today
You forgot it's Saturday!

Do you have to vacuum the carpet?
No, I don’t have to vacuum the carpet.
I have to walk the dog.

Do your dad have to set the table?
No, he doesn’t have to set the table.
He has to vacuum the carpet.

Complete about you.
I ______________________ wash the dishes.
My dad _________________ set the table.
My mom _________________ mop the floor.
Read and stick.

Art camp rules

Prepare all the materials before you start.

Wash the paintbrushes after you paint.

Clean your work area before you leave.

Hang your painting after it dries.

Wash the paintbrushes after you paint
Clean your work area before you leave

Number the actions.

Make your bed _________ you go to school.

Wash the dishes _______ you eat your lunch.

Complete the sentences.

Talk about the camp rules with a friend.

Look, at this camp, you have to clean your work area before you leave.

Talk about the camp rules with a friend.

Light on grammar

Pair work

Turn to page 112

Turn to page 116
Follow and draw the paths.

Look and answer the questions.
1. Does Dad have to walk the dog?
   _______________________________________
2. Does Allie have to wash the dishes?
   _______________________________________
3. Does Mom have to set the table?
   _______________________________________
4. Does Travis have to vacuum the carpet?
   _______________________________________
5. Does Grandma have to mop the floor?
   _______________________________________
6. Does Grandpa have to take out the garbage?
   _______________________________________

Sing a song.

Chorus: No chores to do,
It’s the weekend now,
And my work’s all done.
Let’s have some fun!

Chorus: No chores to do,
Don’t have to go out!
I can stay at home,
I can just chill out.

Chorus: No chores to do,
Not much to think about.
I’m calling my friends,
Let’s just hang out!

Chorus: No chores to do,

Play a guessing game with a friend.

Do you have to wash the dishes?
Yes, I do.
Read and number the chores.

Peter,
Remember to do your chores. First, take out the garbage! Then, please dust the furniture in your room before you mop the floor. Take your time - it’s very dirty! After that, don’t forget to set the table for supper.
Mom

Look and complete the note.

Karen,
Remember to do your chores!
First, ____________________.
Then, please ____________________ before you ____________________.
Take your time - it’s very dirty! After you finish, don’t forget to ____________________
And finally, ____________________.
Mom

Now write a note for a family member.

________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________
The lighthouse keepers’ story

Before you read
Rate the household chores.

1. This is horrible!
2.
3.
4. This is fun!

- vacuuming
- washing the dishes
- dusting
- setting the table
- walking the dog
- mopping
- sweeping

Listen to the first part of the story.

Carol and Todd are twins. They’re 11 years old and they’re a little lazy. They like watching TV, playing computer games, eating and sleeping. But they don’t like doing chores! Their mom always has to remind them.

But today is different. It’s her birthday. They want to give her a surprise! After she goes out with Dad, they decide to clean the house for her.

Don’t forget, it’s Mom’s birthday. Behave yourselves!

Bye! Have a nice day!

- It’s time to start cleaning!
- Mom’s going to be so surprised!
- Hey, look! My favorite TV show!
- Cool... But what about the house?
- We don’t have to hurry! There’s plenty of time.
- OK. Let’s start in five minutes.

Now read the story in groups.
Listen to the second part of the story.

Suddenly, the kids wake up. They look at the clock. It’s a quarter to four! Their parents should be back at any moment. Now they have to hurry up and clean the house before they return.

Oh, no! Look at the time!
Hurry up!

Mom and Dad come back just after the kids finish their chores. The kids are very lucky!

Hello! We’re home!

Todd washes the dishes. Then, he dusts and finally, he sets the table. Carol vacuums the sofa, sweeps and mops the floor.

What a mess!

We cleaned the house for you. We hope you like it!

This is the best birthday ever!

Happy Birthday, Mom!

Now read the story in groups.

After you read
Draw the perfect present for your mom’s birthday.
Morocco is a country in the northwest of Africa. It's not very big - it's about the size of the state of California - but the land varies a lot. There's a very fertile area near the coast where people grow barley, wheat and vegetables. There are some snowy mountains in the center. They’re called the Atlas Mountains. The Sahara Desert covers the southern part of the country.

Most people in Morocco live in the big cities: Casablanca, Marrakesh, Rabat (the capital of Morocco) and Fez. The official language is Arabic, but people speak French a lot, too. Spanish and English are also common languages there.

Country quiz: Morocco

Where is Morocco? ______________.

How many different geographical regions are there? ______________.

What is the main religion? ______________.

How do you say hello in Arabic? ______________.

What is the name of a traditional piece of clothing? ______________.

The dominant religion in Morocco is Islam. Ramadan and Mouloud are two important holidays. They celebrate the life of the Muslim prophet Muhammad. For Ramadan, people have different work hours, celebrate in their homes and eat special food. For Mouloud, there are songs and dances. During these holidays, many people wear traditional clothes, like the djelleba, a hooded robe.

Morocco is also famous for its rosewater, a special extract made from roses. People use it all over the world in foods and perfumes. It takes 3,000 kg of rose petals to produce 1 liter of rose water!

They shake hands and say Marhaba! in Arabic or Bonjour! in French.
Families usually eat the main meal of the day together. It’s a time for them to talk about their day. The usually eat typical food, like couscous. The traditional way to eat it is with your right hand. After dinner, Baina has to help wash the dishes. In the evening, she takes water to the camels. When she finishes, she listens to people playing music and dancing. Life as a nomad isn’t easy, but it can be fun, too!

The desert in the south of Morocco is inhabited by nomadic people. Baina is a nomad. She lives in a tent with her family. She has to do household chores like many young people all around the world. She has to sweep the carpets at the start of every day. Then, she has to help start the fire for cooking. Before that, she and her brother have to collect the wood.

Many hands make light work.
Ancient Rome

FORUM

Stick the pictures and read.

- The Romans invented air conditioning!
- Rich Romans used to eat mice!

Did you know that?

Really? I can’t believe it!

Can you believe that?

I didn’t know that!

Listen and repeat.